THE STRANGER ON THE SILL.

BY THOMAS BUCHANAN READ.

Between the broad fields of wheat and corn,
Is the lonely home where I was born;
The peach tree leans against the wall,
And the woodbine wanders over all;
There is the shaded door-way still,
But a stranger's foot has crossed the sill.

There is the barn—and as of yore
I can smell the hay from the open door,
And see the busy swallows throng,
And hear the pewee's mournful song;
But the stranger comes—Oh! painful proof—
His sheaves are piled to the heated roof.

There is the orchard—the very trees
Where my childhood knew long hours of ease
And watched the shadowy moments run,
Till my life had imbibed more shade than sun;
The swing from the bough still sweeps the air,
But the stranger's children are swinging there.

There bubbles the shady spring below
With its bulrush brook where the hazels grow;
'Twas there I found the calamus root,
And watch the minnows poise and shoot,
And heard the robin lave his wing—
But the stranger's bucket is at the spring.

Oh, ye who daily cross the sill,
Steal lightly, for I love it still;
And when you crowd the old barn eaves,
Then think what countless harvest sheaves
Have passed within the scented door
To gladden eyes that are no more.

Deal kindly with those orchard trees;
And when your children crown their knees,
Their sweetest fruits they shall impart,
As if old memories stirred their heart,
To youthful sports still leave the swing,
And in sweet memory hold the spring.

The barn, the trees, the brook, the birds;
The meadows with their lowing herds,
The woodbine on the cottage wall—
My heart still lingers by them all.
Ye strangers on my native sill,
Step lightly, for I love it still.

THE NATIONAL CURRENCY—VICIOUS ATTEMPTS TO CREATE DISTRUST.

The financial power of the Government thus far is omnipotent. In the very nature of its care and control over the national currency it must continue to be so. Mr. James L. Orr, of South Carolina, once the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and (for a rebel) a fair and able man, is reported to have said, since the war ended, that the South was not beaten in the field, but in the treasury. He is not far out of the way. The greenbacks of the United States practically prosecuted the war, and by their prompt support to our gallant armies in the field, won the crowning victory over the great and formidable insurrection against the Government. If the present time should fail adequately to acknowledge this service, impartial history will be sure to render it immortal. To the firmness of the Secretary of the Treasury in 1861–62, and the prompt and able support with which he was seconded by Congress, in establishing this legal tender currency, in place of relying upon bank loans and the caprice and cupidity of great financiers (so called) and capitalists of the Atlantic cities is due the perseverance of the Government to the final and triumphant end, against incompetent Generalship and repeated defeats in the field in 1862, and the early part of 1864. The crisis of this currency was in the summer and fall of 1864, when faction and disloyalty at the North joined hands with treason and rebellion at the South, to stamp the war a failure and supersede the war administration of Mr. Lincoln. It bravely withstood the shock of a Presidential canvass, unparalleled for personal and party bitterness, and unequalled for the direct and sinister support which the opposition derived from the New York Gold Market, and after this trial and subsequent fall of Richmond, came out vindicated before the world as the right arm and the strong arm of the Government backing up our brave armies through all the vicissitudes of their trials to the crowning triumph of the war in April, 1865.

More need not be said of our greenbacks. They have served their first and chief purpose so truly and faithfully that the people will never again distrust them—if they ever have done so—will never with them as a paper currency, save by the substitution of a circulation equally national and bearing the same stamp and seal of the Treasury. Such a circulation is now growing into use in the shape of national bank notes, based upon the pledge of the public stocks of the United States at the Treasury Department. In virtue of this pledge the Government has stamped and sealed every national note, no matter where issued and where to be redeemed, with the identical impress as its own greenbacks. This signet of national credit and sovereignty is already hallowed by the results of the war. The true and unerring purpose of the national currency system is, that it shall not be less respected, less uniform in value in restoring and subserving the employments of peace. There is not one of our readers, we presume, who has not seen, if he has not admired the pink seal upon our greenbacks.—It was said of the red cross of the Crusaders, 'Under this sign we conquer.' Of our Treasury seal it may be said, 'under this sign we have conquered.'

But a committee of the Associated Banks of New York, Philadelphia and Boston, about a fortnight ago, gravely undertook to localize the credit of this national stamp. They suggest to their respective clearing-houses that the uniformity of the national bank note currency be not respected. They propose to throw out all country national bank notes not made redeemable in one or the other of the three cities, and to send home all that are so redeemable, without giving reemployment on the seaboard.—They further propose that any bank, local or national, in either of the three cities, which declines to discredit that portion of the national circulation redeemable under the law at Baltimore, Albanay, or in the West, or to assort and seal up all circulation redeemable in the three cities, shall not be permitted to make their exchanges through the Clearing house. The gratuitous and mischievous report of this committee has happily been rejected by a majority of the city banks, or in other words, laid upon the table. We hope the agitation is at an end, though we notice some mutterings of its renewal.

It is asked why this attempt is made at this time, to create a distrust or difference in the credit and uniformity of the National Bank currency, when neither the Government nor the public recognize the slightest distinction between greenback, national bank notes and greenback legal tender? We can only reply that the leaders of the movement mean nothing more nor less than war upon the uniformity of the national bank system itself. They do not mean to have it uniform, if a New York Clearing house control can possibly defeat the main intent and purpose of the law. They understand well enough that all National Bank notes are a legal tender by and to the Government in all its transactions, save such as are equally excepted in the receipt and payment of greenbacks. They also understand that every deposit with, and every loan made by the national banks in the Atlantic cities, as elsewhere, can be paid off in any description of national bank notes. They are equally aware that nearly all the country national banks keep their surplus funds deposited in one or other of the three cities, and that against these deposits the city banks are required to hold only 25 per cent. of legal tender, and are free to employ the other 75 per cent. until called upon to redeem the notes and checks of their national bank correspondents in the interior.

The main pretexts of the agitation are that the National Banks of the interior do not at all redeem in the Atlantic cities, and that their notes are a local and not a National obligation. The first of these reasons is technically true, but has little or no force, while all the banks of the country are in a state of suspension so far as specie payments are concerned; and the second is not true at all, every National bank note is amply secured, and its payment in legal tender strictly cared for at the Treasury. The demands of the law and the seal of the Treasuy make the obligation strictly National, and the credit and currency of the notes uniform and universal throughout the country.

PROCLAMATION BY THE PRESIDENT—REMOVAL OF RESTRICTIONS ON SOUTHERN TRAFIC.

WHEREAS, By my proclamations of the 13th and 24th of June, 1865, removing restrictions in part upon internal, domestic and coastwise intercourse and trade with States recently declared in insurrection, certain articles were exempted from the effect of said proclamation; and

WHEREAS, The necessity for restricting trade in said articles has now, in a great measure, ceased, it is hereby ordered that on and after the 1st day of September, 1865, all restrictions aforesaid be removed, so that articles declared by said proclamation to be contraband of war, may be imported into said States and sold, subject only to such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, this 29th day of August, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and sixty five, and of the independence of the United States of America the ninetieth.

By the President, ANDREW JOHNSON.

WM. H. SEWARD, Secretary of State.

THE MAN WITH THE IRON MASK.

Many have inquired who this celebrated historical personage, to whom so many allusions have been made, really was. Voltaire, in his "Age of Louis XIV." gives the following account of the mysterious prisoner of State:

"In 1661 there happened an event of which there is no similar example in the history of the world, and with which the historians of that time seem to have been totally unacquainted. There was sent to castle in the island of St. Marguerite, in the sea of Provence, an unknown prisoner, rather above the middle size, young, and of a graceful figure. On the road he wore a mask with steel springs which enabled him to eat without taking it off. He remained here, closely confined, until 1690, when St. Mars, the new governor of the Bastile, had him conveyed to that prison. During the journey, he remained always covered with a mask, and the governor never sat down in his presence. He was lodged at the Bastile with all the attention possible with that dungeon. Nothing was refused him that he desired. His chief taste was for lace and linen remarkably fine. During his two journeys, the soldiers who escorted him had orders to shoot him if he made any attempt to discover himself.

"This unknown died in 1703, and was buried in the night. What increases our surprise is, that when he was sent to St. Marguerite, no person of consequence in Europe was missing. Yet the prisoner was certainly one of the great ones of the world. Every circumstance connected with him proves this. The governor put the dishes on the table himself, then retired and locked the door.—One day the prisoner wrote something with his knife on a silver plate and threw it out of the window. A fisherman picked it up and brought it to the governor, who, with evident astonishment asked the man if he had read what was written on the plate, or if any else had seen it. He was not allowed to go until he had proven these facts decisively. The governor then dismissed him, saying: "It is likely for you that you cannot read." One of the prisoners shirts, written upon in a very fine hand, was one day discovered in the water by a young barber. Two days after the boy was found dead in his bed."

Another authority adds: "On the death of the Iron Mask, his apparel, linen, clothes, matrasses—in short everything that had been used by him were burnt, the walls were scraped, and the floors taken up; all evidently from the apprehension that he might have found means of writing something which would have discovered who he was. The glass was taken out of the winters of his room and pounded to dust, the window-frames and doors were burnt, and the ceiling and plaster of the inside of the chimney were taken down. It was even affirmed that the body was buried without a head; and it was currently reported that a gentleman having bribed the sexton, had the body taken up in the night, and found a stone instead of the head. The most prevalent opinion as regards this singular individual is, that he was the twin-brother of Louis XIV., born some hours after him; and that the king, their father, fearing that the pretensions of a twin-brother might one day rekindle civil war in France, cautiously concealed his birth and sent him away to be brought up in private.

A LETTER FROM GREELEY.—A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette has the following unique letter from Greeley:

NEW YORK, Aug. 6, 1865.

FRIEND REID:—Thank you for yours of the 3d. Your enquiries are laughable. The facts are these:

We elect an editor of the Tribune annually by a stock vote (one hundred shares, one vote each).—Once, many years ago, two votes were cast against me for editor—none before or since.

I have never heard that any stockholder desired my withdrawal from the Tribune.

I mean to reduce my work on it at the earliest moment and have so stated to all who have a right to know. I am overwhelmed with labor. I grow old and want rest and comfort. My idea is to get some one else to take the laboring oar, receive the kicks and cuffs, and let me farm a little, fish some, and write when in the spirit. Such is my dream. I hope to realize at least a part of it during the year 1866; but I may not till some later. You know how circumstances control every thing.

At present I am writing about an average of two columns per day for the Tribune—too much; I mean to write less whenever I can.

That is all I know of the matter. Perhaps they know more at the Herald office.

Vol. II., I grieve to say, does not get on as fast as it should. I have too much other work, a very sick wife, and am not very well myself, and the weather is good for corn and turnips, but bad for history. I hope for improvement in many if not most respects.

Yours, HORACE GREELEY.

The officials at the Internal Revenue Bureau, by the way, have enjoyed a hearty laugh over a letter from a New York Commission merchant, who wrote to ask an explanation of a notification that some whisky consigned to him had been seized in transitu, on suspicion that the tax had not been paid. "I will thank you," said the letter, "to write me where 'Transitu' is, as I want to send a check there, and I can't find out what railroad it is on!"

JOSH BILLINGS says: "I think, after all, that the Indian rubber kind of virtue, that will bend and stretch, just a little, and then fly right back to its place, is safer than the icicle virtue, that is pretty sure to melt, unless you keep it on the north side of the barn all the time; and when it once melts, that is the last of it."

ORPHEUS C. KERR ON RECONSTRUCTION.

It is a high moral idea of poets, congressmen, and the writers for our improving weekly journals of exciting romance, my boy, that it is a noble and majestic thing to feel warmly for one's country; but when the thermometer stands at 90 in the shade, and we join with our fellow-beings in shedding tears from the tops of our foreheads, I find my disinterested patiotism fully equal to the self-abnegation of the remark that I had rather be cool than be President. Our brethren are already in the field; why stand we here idle? Is ice so dear, or peace so sweet as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty Dollars! I know not what other gentlemen would have; but as for me, give me liberty or give me a fan. Thus, my my boy, after the manner of the departed Patrick Henry, did I expose myself to the conservative Kentucky chap, as we stood panting in the vestibule of the Treasury Building the other day; and says he:

"The loyal State of Kentucky, of which I am a part, has no objections to warm weather in the Summer-time; provided it is not endorsed by the fanatical Black Republicans. Warm weather," says the conservative Kentucky chap, thoughtfully, "is of much service to the old rye crop of Kentucky; but Kentucky would forego even her old rye, rather than see retarded the movements of that army whose constitutional duty it is to restore the Union—not reconstruct it."

The regular list of dead idiots for this year being not quite full yet, my boy, there are still persons living, who can perceive no very immense difference between Restoring the Union and Reconstructing the Union; which reminds me of a chaste little incident that once occurred in the Sixth Ward.

A highly-respectable liquor-selling chap, of enlarged stomach and over-whelming shirt collar, having just been elected Alderman, through the influence of his excellent moral character, and about two thousand dollars judiciously invested in electors, gave a fashionable party to celebrate this triumph of the purity of elections, and invited about two-thirds of the Fire Department to bring their wives and sweethearts. Promptly at nine o'clock, two Hose Companies, of unblemished reputations for noise, four Engine Associations noted for saving one pine table to every two Brussels carpet they spoiled with water, and three Hook-and-Ladder Societies greatly distinguished for climbing into the third-story windows of the building two doors from the burning domicil, and an equivalent number of the cotton-hearted women of America, were on hand in the Aldermanic drawing-rooms. The new public dignitary received them all with that exquisite blandness of demeanor which is so becoming to great men who have just made a rush from obscurity: and says he,—

"Make yourself at home, now, boys, only don't spit on the carpet. If there's a fire while the swarry is goin' on, I'll let the old women listen for the district and announce it from the airy. We'll keep the winders up, and when the hall bell rings, you fellers as has to leave, can just slip down onto the front stoop without breaking up the entire swarry."

Here the large-hearted aldermanic chap was called hastily down stairs to attend the bar, several army officers having just arrived in the ward, and the "swarry" commenced as merrily as a fire in a carpenter's shop. It set in for a heavy dance about eleven o'clock, and then were seen as many elaborate verses in the poetry of motion, as any pair of eyes could wish to enjoy. "Fifty's" foreman, who danced with a very pretty spotted muslin, produced a very striking and picturesque effect by rolling his inexpressibles up over his boots, and giving a lifelike imitation of the working of an engine with his heels and toes; whereupon the assistant foreman of "Thirty's Truck" suddenly threw off his dress-coat and appeared in full red shirt, simultaneously striking into a fine, artistic shuffle, intended to imitate the hauling-in and reeling-up of the wet hose after a conflagration. These and other graceful novelties were greatly admired by the ladies, each of whom said so many spicy and spiteful things about the other's bare arms and forward manners, that a stranger might have taken them all for the very cream of Fifth Avenue or any other Best Society.

It was about midnight when "Fifty's" foreman, growing reckless with the passionate splendors of excitement, scuffled away with his flushed dotted muslin, to a luxurious chints sofa near one of the windows, and intemperately whispered in her ear, "Miss Perkins, it were madness for me longer to conceal my insanity, and to remain silent would but render me speechless. Here let me lay my heart and trumpet at your feet, and"—

She had fainted! Ay, sir, swooned!

Instantly the whole brilliant saloon was in confusion; the dancing ceased, the dust commenced to settle, and the assistant foreman of "Thirty's Truck" was seen to put on his coat.

"Bring your hose here, quick, and play on her face!" shouted Fifty's foreman, half-crazed by what he had done. But the dotted muslin's mother now clutched her in her arms, and says she, "Let's get her into the dressing chamber, and somebody bring a little sally wolatile."

Here another dowager seized an arm of the fainting girl, and the two bore her tenderly into the retiring-room, followed by some two or three sympathizing young ladies. And now, my boy, it becomes my delicate duty to hastily sketch a scene which the masculine pen cannot too carefully touch upon. It being one of the principles of woman's nature that some relaxations must be permitted in her toilet before she can revive from a swoon, the second dowager, commenced to relieve the fainting fair one of such articles of fashionable addenda as might retard her recovery. She took off her side-curls and back-hair and laid them upon a table; with great care she removed her upper teeth and placed them upon a chair; softly wetting a corner of her handkerchief in her mouth she effectually wiped away the eyebrows and a part of the cheek of the young sufferer; and she was proceeding to make other dissections which I will dismiss with the remark that they are merely matters of form, when the patient gave a gentle sigh as she rested in her mother's arms, and says the mother to the dowager:

"There, Mrs. Jobbins, I guess you needn't do any more." Mrs. Jobbins gave a sagacious look at the patient, and says she:

"Very true, mem; she is getting better. It won't take us long to reconstruct her."

"I beg your parding, Mrs. Jobbins," says the maternal, shaking her cap,—"I beg your parding, Mrs. Jobbins; but your language is ineddicated, highly; you should say 'restore' her."

Mrs. Jobbins straightened herself up, with a glare, and says she: "Perhaps, mem, you can teach me eddication, and my own daughter a teacher these two years in the public schools! The ideor! I repeat it—to reconstruct her—put her together again."

"Restore," says the maternal, savagely.

"Reconstruct!" screamed Mrs. Jobbins.

"And you're a spiteful, stuck-up, toothless old abolitionist!!" yelled the dowager, stopping until her snuff-box hopped out of her pocket.

Drawn to the room, by the noise, a third old nut, a retired foreman of old "Sixty," stuck his head in at the door: "What are you old fools rummaging about? You're keeping the swarry back."

Both the old ladies made at him at once to know which, in his opinion, was the right word,—"Reconstruct," or "Restore?"

The old nut took a thoughtful bite of tobacco, and says he: Let the girl herself tell you when she revives."

Revive was the word, my boy; and while the old women were quarrelling over the two terms aforesaid, poor nature got tired of waiting, and realized the right one in action for herself. The girl revived without being either restored, or reconstructed.

And thus, my boy, I sometimes think, that, whilst noisy old political grannies are quarrelling as to whether the Union shall be restored, or reconstructed, the fainting young Union will suddenly revive of itself. At any rate it bids fair to have plenty of time to do so.

SOCIAL LIFE IN THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

There is a characteristic of this city of Washington that I have often noticed recently—its want of impressibility and sensitiveness to excitement. It takes a great deal to stir up a crowd here to enthusiasm. The natives have a listless, indifferent way of listening to everything, that is enough to dampen ardor even in a New Yorker. Probably the Washington people hear and see so much of the exciting element that they become blase. That must be the reason of their indifference. Even hanging does not seem to agitate them.

When contrasted with London, Paris, and some of the other European capitals, Washington seems the grandest of sites for a metropolis that could have been selected. Nature has done everything here, even to providing one of the finest rivers of the continent. It only remains to us now to set to work and build up a city. We have a Tibur, but as yet no Rome—only the Capitol. We hear much discussion in regard to the future of Washington now that the war is ceased, and to a great extent the various interests that centred here have also ceased to exist. Yet there seems to be much building going on in all parts of the city, and several new churches—an indication of the improving piety of the place—have been erected within the last year. Business, though, seems small and pitayunish; in fact there is very little trade except the retail. A few wholesale groceries have been kept, since the war began, to supply the outlers; but in all other brauches Washington depends slavishly upon Baltimore, only forty miles distant.

The capital of the United States—how grandly that sounds!—is still, in many respects, "a mere country village." And yet at the same time it is one of the dearest places for living that you can fall into. You pay higher prices and get higher rooms—of course not at Willard's and the Metropolitan—than in any other city in the East or the West either.

Department life at the capital is a subject in which a great many people in the provinces are deeply interested. But it is a very stupid life of mere routine, and encourages all the vices—the seven capital sins of the capital and the breaking of the Seventh Commandment. It is said there are more gambling and bawdy houses in Washington than in any city in the Union of the same population. I believe it, and so impudently public, too; some of them used to put out signs. Coming here with an appointment in his pocket for a sixteen-hundred or fourteen-hundred dollar clerkship, the young man from Boston, and the other country towns thinks he is going to live like a lord and save half his salary. Not so, Oh promising youth. For the boarding houses in this city are notoriously the worst in the country, and yet they will charge you thirty dollars a month just for boarding; then your furnished room will cost you from fifteen to twenty dollars additional; for, as you will want to change your boarding-house about once a week, it is best to have a fixed room where your friends can find you, and then browse around. In fact, everything is of a poor quality you get to eat here, and prices enormous. The Hotels usually charge well: in fact they always did. Most of the Government clerks in Washington are only agents for the boarding-house proprietors. They draw the money for the latter, and pay it over to them. Some of these poor Department rats have been in office thirty and thirty-five years. When they die, their friends often go around with a subscription paper to collect money enough to bury them. Picture it, think of it, O ambitious youth in the provinces near Boston. They have reduced office-holding and office-seeking to a regular business, and, being always on the ground, have the advantage of the ambitious youth from the rural districts. Secretary Harlan, however, seems determind to unearth this class of people, who have no sympathy with the Administration, and yet sneakingly crave its patronage. I hope Mr. Harlan will clean out the dusty fossils of his Department, and give new men, who have served in the army and navy, a chance to serve also in the cool marble halls of the Patent Office. They are fully competent. There is necessarily much jealousy and ill-feeling in these great departments whenever promotions and changes are made. Where there are five and six thousand clerks, as in Washington, of course there always will be rivalry and heart-burnings. It is amazing to me how some of these people live, with such large families and small salaries. The ones who get the smallest salaries, usually have the most to do, and vice versa.

Whether the close of the war will make living in Washington any cheaper, is as yet an undecided question. Next Winter, prices may probably come down, though they have not fallen perceptibly as far. I shall study the subject, if I don't get sick trying experiments on my stomach at the different hotels and boarding-houses, and prepare a report for the benefit of country members of Congress, and others who propose bringing their families here next Winter. To live or not to live; that is the question. I am in favor of living, if it be possible. Congress will perhaps vote in the same way.—Washington Correspondence.

IMPORTANT TO TRAVELING AGENTS.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that all persons traveling about the country as the agents of manufacturers or dealers, seeking orders for goods in original and unbroken packages, are regarded as commercial brokers, within the meaning of the law, and as such must procure license. Those acting as the agent of one person or firm, exclusively, are also liable as above. Licenses to this class should be made out so as to show the place of business of the licensee, if he have one, but, if not, his residence should be stated. Licenses thus made out should be recognized by revenue officers in all parts of the country."

JAMES LARD and a Miss McCabe, daughter of a farmer near Santa Clara, while driving from the M. E. camp meeting to Saratoga Springs last Sunday, met with a painful accident. The horses took fright and becoming unmanageable, upset the buggy.—They found Miss McCabe on a stump or snag, which passed through her bowels, tearing them in a shocking manner. She was carried to a neighboring house and promptly cared for; but very little hopes are entertained of her recovery. Mr. Lard escaped with slight injuries.

THE NEXT CONGRESS.—The next Congress will be composed as follows: Union Representatives from the loyal States, including Kentucky, 147; Copperheads from the same, 40. Union men from the State of Tennessee, 8; Copperheads, 2. If all the Southern States are allowed Representatives, they will add 69 to the Copperhead strength in the House; if not the parties will be divided as follows: Union, 152; Copperhead, including Tennessee, 42. Union majority, 100.

DUTCH FLAT ENQUIRER.

SATURDAY MORNING, SEPT. 30, 1865.

Now, by St. Paul, the work goes bravely on,
The Stars and Stripes are up for Liberty,
Flag of the Nation--Talisman of the Free,
Curs'd be the hand that dares to pull thee down.

REGULAR UNION NOMINATION:

For Justice of the Supreme Court,

S. W. SANDERSON.

NOMINATIONS FOR TOWNSHIP No. 4.

For Justices of the Peace,

E. AUBURY, J. H. NEFF.

ALMOST A FIRE.—On Thursday morning last about seven o'clock a fire broke out in the National Hotel, which threatened at one time destruction to the entire business portion of the town, but by prompt and energetic action was subdued. Those who first saw the fire, we are told, were unable to turn the water from the water works in time to avail anything in extinguishing the fire, and were compelled to resort to buckets. We would suggest that those having charge of the water works leaving them in such condition that any one in town may be able to make the water serviceable at any time. The water works have heretofore been proved to be very valuable to the town in cases of fire and doubtless will continue to be so, but we seriously question whether the water could be made available in an emergency if it was turned off as was said to have been the case on Thursday morning. At this season of the year persons should be very particular in building fires before they have thoroughly examined their stoves and stove-pipes, as in many instances repairs are necessary, and without which they are liable not only to destroy their own property but that of their neighbors. We hope this timely suggestion may be acted upon, and thereby avoid a conflagration, from which our town has been so singularly fortunate.

ACCIDENTS.—John Elster, employed in the Brown Brothers' claim near You Bet was severely injured by a cave in the claim on Monday morning last. Dr. Nelson, of this place, attended the injured man and rendered him every necessary surgical aid.

A youth, whose name we were unable to learn, about twelve years of age. residing in You Bet, was injured near that place on Monday last by an ax flying off the handle, which was being used by the boy's brother.

Jenkins Richards, a miner residing in this place, had his collar-bone fractured on Monday. He was engaged in tearing down a cabin, when one of the large timbers slipping, struck him, causing the fracture above named, which will lay him up for some weeks.

Mr D. M. Harden, while engaged at work on Captain M. S. Gardner's new house at the Eastern portion of the town sustained quite a serious injury on Monday morning last by a large piece of timber falling upon his head, nearly scalping him. Dr. Nelson was in immediate attendance upon the injured man and he is now doing as well as it is possible, under the circumstances.

SAUCE FOR ARNOLD.—A gentleman who is thoroughly acquainted with Arnold's character for honesty and integrity writes to us as follows:

"So you have to answer the complaint of L. B. Arnold for libel? I am a little surprised that Mr. Arnold should deem hinself libelled by the truth." That is not the idea, Arnold wants to manufacture a character out of the five thousand dollars he expects to rob us of. He has sworn that he has sustained damages to that amount, and no means will be left untried by him to get the money. He has failed to make $5000 any year for the past three years, for he has not paid any income tax that we can hear of for that time.

TANNER TROUPE.—On Wednesday evening last the Tanner Troupe performed in this place. We do not mean to puff this troupe, nor do we intend to say anything spiteful of them because somebody else has done so. The performance given by this troupe was very good, and was well received by those in attendance. Little Solidad's dancing is worth the admission price. We are satisfied, from the efforts of those belonging to the company that they endeavored honestly to please, and if they failed in any particular the intention should be taken for the deed.

RAIN.—On Tuesday last we had an old fashioned rain and hail storm; the artillery of heaven frequently breaking forth in terrible mutterings, since which time the atmosphere has been quite cool, making a warm stove anything but unpleasant in morning and evening. On Tuesday evening snow fell at Excelsior District, and during the night and Wednesday morning the ground was frozen sufficiently to allow cattle to pass over the frozen crust.

INCREASING.—The travel to the State of Nevada over the Dutch Flat route is rapidly increasing, the road presenting an almost continuous line of teams from Colfax to the Summit. The stages are frequently delayed an hour behind time on account of the crowded condition of the road. The travel will probably increase until the winter sets in when the snows will likely cause many teams to draw off for the season.

THE fast freight line, under the management of the Pioneer Company are now making regular trips from Colfax to this place, daily, arriving here about one o'clock. This line will be a great convenience to all classes of our citizens, and the Company are deserving the thanks and good wishes of our people for placing the freight line on the road.

NEW MAN.—Frank Pauson wants the people to know that he has bought out Pony Jones' interest in the Golden Eagle Saloon, where he intends keeping everything in the best style. Those wanting to regale themselves had better give him a call.

NOTICE.—Mr. Fletcher advertises in another column a horse supposed to have been stolen. Any one having lost a horse answering the description can see him at Fletcher's ranch 24 miles above Dutch Flat.

REMOVED.—Mr. G. S. Maker has removed his family provision store to the storeroom under Masonic Hall where he will keep every description of family and miners' supply. See advertisement.

THE total assessed valuation in Butte county this year is—real estate, $1,107,706: personal property, $1,358 916. Total, $2,566 625.

LETTER FROM SACRAMENTO.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 26, 1865.

FRIEND BOUST:—You have before you conclusive evidence that I intend to perform my part of the contract made at the Branch Saloon in this ungodly city, and subsequently ratified at the same place over a glass (apiece) of Gruhler's lager.

Although the immortal "we" of the Dutch Flat ENQUIRER, failed from some cause to the plaintiff unknown to send a copy of his discriminating sheet to the said plaintiff, he (the plaintiff) is here staunch and true with letter No. 1.

And, furthermore, your Honor, it is the intention of myself to be constantly on hand, like a glove in the winter, and write my weekly say with unexampled regularity. If you discover by reference to Webster's unabridged, that the major portion of my words are of imperfect orthography, have the kindness and patience to correct them, for I do not wish to trespass on the rights of Artemus Ward, and should you discover me using the pronoun, I, half as often in my communications as does Topsey Turvey in her splutterations, or does Loudenslager, the self-constituted President of the San Francisco Commercial College, use the word "business" in his three by eight circular, please scratch out my I's and change the active to the passive form, and I will passively submit. By way of explanation, the statement should be enclosed in a parenthesis that Loudenslager's circular, about the size of your hand, contains the word "business" forty-three times, and yet he claims to be the best scholar on the Pacific coast, and to be in correspondence with the principal colleges in the Union. He also goes to the trouble of informing the dear public that his institution is the only legitimate one in California and warns all seekers after knowledge not to patronize the small concerns styling themselves Commercial Schools and Academies.

The State Fair, which by the way proved a most magnificent success, terminated on Saturday, and we hear no more the soul-inspiring cries of "money wanted on the inside," "rondo," "one dollar in bank—who takes any part of it?" "culo—one dollar, two," etc. No longer do we hear the rumbling of the motley vehicles improvised into conveyances for transporting people to the Park, where the Society's money was most profusely squandered on professional jockeys, to the sad neglect of farmers, mechanics and artists. Think of an imported racehorse carrying away thirty-five hundred dollars and the best oil painting receiving the first premium of three dollars. I dare not inquire who has been to the greatest extent benefitted by this Fair, for the answer would point to any but the industrial classes. It is true that the races were the attraction that brought thousands of people to the city and distributed thousands of dollars among—we know full well whom; not among the class of people intended to be benefitted by an Agricultural Fair.

It was not my intention to write a dissertation on any subject this time, but simply to break the ice by introducing myself to the German Levelers whom, not knowing, I esteem, and who I hope will learn to like me on acquaintance. I can say truly that some of the smartest men I know, and the best looking girls I have seen came from Dutch Flat, therefore I conclude it is a good place to come from.

M. T.

ROPE WALKING.—James Cook, who was advertised to walk a rope stretched from the Cliff house to seal rock, performed the feat on Wednesday. the Call, in giving an account of it, says:

"The weather was as favorable as the principal actor could have desired. When the hour arrived, Cooke stepped out on his straight and narrow path with alacrity, pole in hand, made his airy march over the abyss below him, recalling to the minds of those who have witnessed the panorama of "Paradise Lost," Satan's flight from Hell to Earth. When three-fourths of the way over, Cooke, as if by misadvertence, let his balance-poll fall into the water, and dropped from his erect atittude to the rope, and after resting for a moment made his way to the Seal Rock. Having received his balance pole again, he started on the return trip, first advancing a few yards as if to reassure himself that the rope was secure, then retrogressing made a fresh and final start from the rock. There was no trepidity manifest in his movements, as with measured step he moved forward toward the shore end; and when within some twenty or twenty-five feet of the terminus, he threw his pole from him and quickened his pace, passing over the remainder of his perilous journey amid the deafening acclamations of the multitude. The novel excursion was accomplished within four minutes each way, the length of the span being three hundred feet. If the tight rope were the line of duty, Mr. Cooke would be a remarkably circumspect man.

BURGLAR LOOSE.—The San Francisco Call is responsible for the following about the escape of a noted burglar, who made his escape from San Quentin on Saturday last:

"William Gregg, alias M. D. Gray, alias Jersey, was arrested Tuesday evening, all equipped for a a night's work in somebody's house. He escaped from the State Prison on Saturday last, and came to the city, where he seems to have entered upon the duties of his profession with alacrity. He had a candle, matches, and the necessary tools in his pocket when arrested, and as an evidence that he meant to throw himself on his reserved rights in case he should be interrupted in his labors, he was armed with a formidable-looking Deringer. He showed fight when the officer went to arrest him, and seemed to have made up his mind not to be taken. He was secured, however, before he had time to draw his weapon.

THE ENTERPRISE LEAD.—The Enterprise Company Excelsior, are packing ore from their mine to the Dutch Flat road, to be sent to Grass Valley for reduction. They have now at their dump about one hundred and fifty tons; all of this ore, however, would not pay to ship, though it would all pay well if worked at the mine. We saw an assay yesterday of ore from the richest part of the vein (the new shaft) which showed in gold, per ton, $2,960 36, and in silver, $3 57; total value $2,963-93. At the same time we were shown an assay of a piece of ore from the old shaft, in which no gold could be seen, which went $120 58 in gold and $2 44 in silver—$123 02 in all. If plenty of even the latter quality of ore can be obtained, it is good enough.—Enterprise.

Copper mining in Amador, after having gone down from a fever heat to zero, is gradually assuming a healthy condition. The Newton Cosumnes, Oriental, Arroyo Seco and several others have been fully established as paying mines. The Aroyo Seco, better known as the McKneely mine, near Ione City, with one exception, has paid all assessments for shinking shaft and improvements. The returns of ore shipped to Swansea are sufficiently favorable to justify the ownars in largely extending their future operations.

THE Scadden Flat mine on Saturday completely knocked the dust out of the eyes of its owners, says the Grass Valley Union, and left the pleasant satisfaction of knowing that they have one of the best mines in California. From one blast a candle box full of gold was taken up, which showed the enormous yield of six hundred dollars. Great activity prevails in that district, in mining and prospecting.

W. H. SEARS, who took charge of the Nevada Gazette for the purpose of destroying the Union party in that county, announces his withdrawal from that paper.—The bolting faction he represented were defeated, routed, and scattered in every direction.—May the devil get him and his crowd of disorganizers.

AT a special meeting of the Grass Valley Fenian Brotherhood, held last Thursday evening, Sept. 20th a collection was taken up for the furtherance of the Fenian cause, and over four hundred dollars was contributed.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

The Marysville Appeal, a paper eminently sound upon most questions pertaining to party, reviews the "Monroe Doctrine plank," dove-tailed into the Democratic platform recently stuck together at Sacramento by Beriah Brown, John Bigler and J. W. Coffroth:

After examining that one-by-three inch plank, placed edgewise in the Copperhead platform on the Monroe Doctrine, upon which Arry Are Artley is to stand, and after reading the interesting and conflicting views of that harmonions and sage assemblage of serpentine politicians in trying to expound that "doctrine," we have arrived at the conclusion that they have concluded to occupy that little noncommittal plank on its edge, so, at the proper time, they can flirt it over on the other side. The "proper time" will arrive when they receive the interpretation of the Monroe doctrine from the veteran wing of their party in the land of Dixie (Jeff. Davis & Co.); and also after the Union party define that "doctrine" and take their position. Then they will, of course, give their definition in conjunction with their Southern wing, so as to oppose the interpretation of the Union party, be that what it may.

Having so many conflicting views among themselves as to the true interpretation of the Monroe doctrine, it is very convenient to occupy such a noncommital position. For as it now reads they may render the meaning war, peace, compromise, or anything else. As for our part we think it has been in the first place very fully explained by President Monroe himself, by resolutions introduced in Congress, by Secretary Seward and others of the Union party. So that it would be useless for the Union party to attempt a planer or more comprehensive exposition of its views than they have already. As we understand the matter it amounts in the aggregate to about this: The Monroe doctrine gives all the European or Monarchical Powers substantially to understand that this continent, from the British boundaries north of us to its extreme southern limits, including the United States, Mexico, Central and South America, with all their territories, is inhabited by a people who love liberty and freedom; and have respectively organized themselves into Republics after their own peculiar forms, each believing in the democratic doctrine of self-government and opposed to all the despotic and monarchical institutions of the Old World. And therefore should those European Powers at any time engage in a system of "colonization" into any of those Republics in view of overrunning the same, and forcing by the sword or otherwise a change of said Republic into a Momarchy, we, the United States, will construe such attempt as an unfriendly act toward our own Republic, and shall govern ourselves accordingly.

By treaty stipulations we are prevented from any interference with Canada or the British Possessions on our northern boundaries. While such treaties are faithfully observed by the respective parties, Monarchies look upon Monarchies in a more friendly light than they do Republics. Hence it is natural enough that the United States would not only sympathize with a neighboring Republic, but also if she needed it, to lend her a helping hand. To illustrate our position, suppose for instance, that Don Juan, a quiet, peaceable, but very infirm and impotent man, lived on an adjoining farm to Uncle Sam, who, by the way, was a real "Benicia Boy," on the "hit." Along comes Johnny Bull or Louis Nappa, either of whom are men of powerful physical and muscular dimensions; and they fall upon poor Don, get him down, while Don cries to Uncle Sam to "take him off," or "come as a good neighbor to my rescue." Well, suppose Uncle Sam would reply and say, "Don, it is not my quarrel or fight, you must endure it, I won't interfere." What would you say should be done with such a man? Would you award him "the belt?" No; such an unfeeling and, we might add, unprincipled neighbor, should be kicked out of decent men's company. But what is worse, poor Don is overpowered and placed as a slave under a tyrant called Max—and Sam stands by and don't interfere.

Thus it is with poor Mexico, our neighboring Republic. She has been fallen upon by one of the most powerful European nations; whose Emperor, taking advantage of the domestic broils and troubles in Mexico, calls to his assistance rebels of their own household; and takes by armed force possession of the Nation's Capital; calls a royal scion from Austria and places him as ruler over them, leaving a large army to keep them in subjection. Now we inquire, will the United States stand by and not interfere, and say it is not our quarrel or fight? No, never! True, in consequence of our own trouble, this interference has n cessarily been delayed. But our noble Government, through her able Secretary of State, has clearly informed his Imperial Majesty that the Monroe doctrine has not been abandoned, but will be maintained. And when Congress meets our Government will exhibit a due conformity between her words and her actions. Then, (except Napoleon withdraws) Sheridan will cross the Rio Grande, and our fleet will be moved to the scene of action, when Mexico will be liberated and her oppressors will skedaddle to every point of the compass. Such is the true meaning of the Monroe doctrine, as the Union party understand it. Can the "Cops." say as much?

THE Idaho World of the 9th gives the following account of the robbery of Sigsbee, a packer from Umatilla: Mr. Sigsbee sold his train and merchandise last week for the sum of $5,800, which was paid him on Monday night. Late in the evening he started with the money on horseback for Centerville alone. He had taken precautions to prevent any one from knowing of his departure. Some miles out from town he was suddenly startled by the appearance of a man stepping from the branches of a fallen tree near the trail, who instantly presented a shot gun to his head and demanded him to halt. Hearing a noise behind him, he looked around and saw another man with a shot gun presented. The man in front kept him covered with his gun while the other quietly forced him to dismount, and when off the horse stripped off the belt around his waist, examined his cantinas, searched his pockets, and helped himself to the contents. When he had concluded the examination he hung Sigsbee's pistol and cantinas to the saddle, handed him the reins and ordered him to walk off. The moon was shining brightly. The robbers continued to stand on the spot until he was out of sight. He then mounted his horse and returned to town, having been absent about an hour and a half. Mr. Sigsbee thinks he recognized one of the highwaymen. Sigsbee offers $2,915 reward for the recovery of the dust.

SAD LETTERS.—The National says the mail facilities with the South are now as good as before the war; and numerous letters are being received by our people from their friends and relatives in the South. Many of the letters wear black seals and are stained with tears. Friends are informed for the first time by these sad missives, of the demise of those who had been dead for years. Numerous letters tell of impoverished households, ruined farms, desolate hearthstones. These are the results of secession and treason. Such things were predicted by Alexander Stephens, and so literally have his prophetic words been verified that his speech is now a truthful statement of the condition of the South. The rebels have not only brought woe and want upon themselves, but they have made almost every home a house of mourning. Thousands of brave and loyal sons of the North have reddened the soil of the South with their blood, and laid down their lives for their country. This is the legacy of the war forced upon the nation. If the lesson taught is heeded by the people, then the clouds will soon pass away; the losses will soon be repaired, and the war remembered only as the regeneration of the nation.—Transcript.

ON last Sunday night Ralph Smith was stopped on the road between Mount Ophir and Bear Valley by three men armed with six-shooters. They made him dismount, shake his pockets, and take off and snake his boots, after which he was allowed to travel on. There are many of these "road agents," says the Mariposa Gazette, who will soon find that their actions are better known than they imagine.

BLOGGS AGAIN.

An amusing writer, of the San Francisco Call, who glories in the nom de plume of "Bloggs" has reappeared, and for his reason as to his former reticence says that he is "just from the wars." We copy a portion of his letter which explains itself, and if Stanford don't give him something better than hash-server, we'll always think he ought to. He commences as follows:

You recollect my old intimacy with Governor Stanford, when he filled chair of state, and that is what took me to the wars. I asked him for a commission in the army. He gave me one—that is, he told me to go, and not to stand upon the order of setting off. I went and took rank immediately—rear rank, as watcher of disabled mules. My experience in the service was extensive—enough to fill four volumes and a quarter, octavo. We did excellent service—ate up all our regular rations besides those we foraged from places where the chickens didn't roost high; and would you believe it? we actually grew fat under the discipline! But the dangers we encountered were terrible! At one time our troop was within ten miles of a spot where a real battle had been fought, and at another we were actually within thirty miles of a live enemy! 'Twas there I won my first commission. I was commissioned by the Captain of a Company to rub down his horse; the man didn't know enough to do it himself. It is surprising the great number of just such ignorant officers appointed by the Government. Many of the Generals had to have their victuals cooked for them, and some Colonels actually had to engage intelligent persons to black their boots! It was while engaged in the last mentioned occupation, that I received my first stripes. I dont know what office they indicated; there were more than ever I see on a Sergeant's coat, and not half as many as ought to be on that of some Generals.

The branch of the army to which I was attached was composed principally of sappers and miners. The miners were mostly from California and Pennsylvania, and the sapper apparently just picked up anywhere. The latter were distinguinshed mostly by gold lace, yellow cloth and swell-heads, and during the campaign managed to sap Uncle Sam's Treasury quite extensively. Had it not been for them Mr. Chase would not have been able to employ so many poor people in printing greenbacks, and a great many poor people now employed by the Government in gathering up these bits of paper in all parts of the country would probably be in the poor house. Great were the sappers! and long will their memory be kept green in the land!

There were in our cavalry service some of the most splendid chargers ever known in this or any other Nation—especially the ho ses' Commissary, Quartermaster, and Sutler could charge more, oftener and higher than any other animals that ever existed. They charged at and over everybody, except a few Colonels and Generals, and some of their charges at the Treasury Department—which they seemed to have a particular spite against—were truly grand. The charges of a thousand "light brigades" would be as nothing to one of theirs.

But why dwell on the scenes of the tented field? Why disturb your readers and my own feelings by fighting o'er again those terrible battles? I shudder with horror as I reflect upon the blood I never shed, and the fields of battle and slaughter I took good care to avoid. For other pens be the task of dilating upon the ensanguined subject. Old soldiers, like myself, are too modest to recount our own feats of prowess. For me, my thoughts naturally revert to old associations and memories. I love peaceful occupation, where one can hold dalliance with fond friends, and pleasant converse with innocent politicians and uncorrupted and inexperienced members of society, such as brokers, stockjobbers, and the like. Dear, unsophisticated souls! After the horrors of the battle-fields, your society is like that of Paradise, after the apple was eaten by pretty little Eve.

I return from the wars to find my old friend and associate, Governor Stanford, expunged from the Gubernatorial chair, and presiding over the destinies of the great Pacific Railroad, which they tell me is just the biggest thing on ice. A fine man is Stanford; no man ever took the oath with better grace, or less sugar; and next, Charley Crocker; he can wield more railroads, and over higher mountains, than any man living. A truly great Governor was he, also; he filled the Chair of State completely. And a great man was his successor. By the way, California has been remarkable for having a succession of great Governors—with one exception—not one of whom weighed less than two hundred pounds. The exception was little Jack Downey, a light, stray feather, who was blown into the Chair of State by the wind of chance. The present Governor has not the pleasure of my acquaintance. When I meet him, I shall do him the honor to ask him to repeat the oath with me, and if I find him to be a man of rare personal and mental attractions shall most certainly attach myself to his person and fortunes so long as he has an office to bestow, or money in the bank. Talking of office reminds me of the ungrateful conduct of Stanford; after all I had done for him, too. On my return, I appled to him for a place, thinking a President could give more than a Governor. He tendered me the position of overseer on the railroad. I soon found out what the office was. It was to stand up and oversee the tables of the workmen when they were at their meals, and see that their pannikins were regularly filled with coffee and molasses, and their tin platters with pork and potatoes. This to an old friend who had been a soldiering! Talk of the ingratitude of republics! it cannot hold a candle to that of Republicans! Allow me to express the hope that all other Republicans will not thus scorn the claims of all other soldiers of the Republic! Ten thousand stumpy arms will be raised in deprecation of such conduct, and twice ten thousand timber legs will stamp indignation at it, while the tears of thrice ten thousand homeless orphans will with curses bedew the soil which affords sustanance to men who, in a prosperous peace, can forget the debt of gratitude they owe to those who offered up their all on the altar of their country.

A WASHOE ZEPHYR.—On Sunday we were visited by a "Washoe zephyr" of adult proportions and capacity. The gale swept through the city with such force that pedestrians were often brought to a stand-still, being unable to make headway against the furious gusts which came tearing along. At times the air was rendered almost stifling by the great quantities of dust and rubbish with which it was loaded. When caught in one of these gusts about the best thing one could do was to make a rush for a door-way, and there stand with eyes, mouth and ears closed till the dirty tornado had swept past. The gale was not only exceedingly unpleasant, but did considerable amount of damage to buildings in the city and vicinity. A barn thirty by sixty feet, in size, on H street was being erected by Mr. Steele, was blown down and completely demolished. The building was a frame and was constructed of heavy timber, but as one end stood on posts, elevating it some five or six feet from the ground, the wind got a purchase on it and over it went. The barn was inclosed but the rafters had not yet been put up. The lumber in the sides and floor of the building, as well as the timber and braces, were so crushed and shivered that most of it is worthless. Many sheds in various parts of the city were blown down and flag-staffs, signs and awnings flew about in a lively manner. Even substantial fire-proof brick buildings shook in a manner not at all pleasant to their occupants. A large portion of the tin roof of the Overman hoisting works was blown off and carried a distance of two hundred yards. Altogether it was rather a dusty old zephyr. We hope this last effort may have left the clerk of the weather about out of wind.

FOR the past few weeks, says the Oroville Record our town has been lined with two, four and six-horse teams, unloading and loading to and from all directions. Many farmers are storing large crops of barley for the market, and many private speculators are investing from two to five thousand dollars in the article—this, with the large quantities purchased by the merchants, keep up an unusually brisk trade.

A QUARTZ vein of extraordinary richness was lately discovered on Slate Creek, about four miles from Nevada City, to the right of the old Rough & Ready road. It is owned by Messrs. Shurtliff, Mather and others. From one pan of the decomposed rock, they washed out sixty dollars in gold, and it is reported that they had been offered two dollars a pound for one or two tuns of rock which they have taken out. Quite an excitement ensued.

DIED.

In this place, on Sunday Sept. 24th, 1865, of Pneumonia, JAMES FOX, aged about 45 years. Mr. Fox had long been a resident of California, and was at one time a resident of Iowa Hill, where he had many warm friends. He leaves an interesting family to mourn his sudden demise.

At Auburn, on Tuesday, September 26th, 1865, Dr. HENRY HUBBARD, in the 42nd year of his age.

The citizens of Auburn are again called upon to bow their heads before the afflictive hand of Providence. Once more we are called upon to mourn the loss of one of our first and most esteemed citizens. It would be impossible to name one among us, of whom so large a circle would unite in saying, "We could better have spared any other." Dr. Hubbard was one of the earliest of Auburn's pioneers. As Physician, Merchant, Banker, neighbor and friend he had won the esteem of all and the love of many with whom he associated. By his death our community has lost one of its staunchest pillars—society an ornament, his family an ever kind protector—and the poor one of their truest and most reliable friends.

We sincerely endorse all our cotemporary of the Stars and Stripes has said in relation to the lamented dead. Few men have ever retained a higher reputation for the virtues which blended, point to the possessor as one of the creatures made in the image of God than has Dr. HUBBARD.

UNITED STATES 7-30 LOAN.

BY AUTHORITY OF THE SECRETARY OF THE Treasury, the undersigned has assumed the General Subscription Agency for the sale of United States Treasury Notes, bearing seven and three-tenths per cent. interest per annum, known as the

SEVEN-THIRTY LOAN.

These Notes are issued under date June 15th, 1865, and are payable three years from that time, in currency, or are convertible, at the option of the holder, into

United States 5-20 Six per cent.

GOLD BEARING BONDS

These bonds are now worth a premium of nine per cent. including gold interest from November, which makes the actual profit on the 7-30 loan at current rates, including interest, about 10 per cent. per annum, besides its EXEMPTION FROM STATE AND MUNICIPAL TAXATION, WHICH ADDS FROM ONE TO THREE PER CENT. MORE, according to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable in currency semi-annually, by coupons attached to each note which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest amounts to
One cent per day on a $50 note.
Two cents per day on a $100 note.
Ten cents per day on a $500 note.
Twenty cents per day on a $1,000 note.
One dollar per day on a $5,000 note.

Notes of all denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions. This is now offered by the Government, and it is confidently expected that its superior advantages will make it the Great Popular Loan of the People.

Less than $300,000,000 of the loan authorized by the last Congress, are now on the market.

This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loans, the National Bank, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

WEST VIRGINIA OIL REGIONS.

The Wheeling Intelligencer of August 27th says there are now sixty millions of dollars invested in oil territory in West Virginia. Much of this at this time is inactive, but when it is remembered that it is scarcely four months since peace was restored to this region and operations resumed, you will find that its progress in development is rapid and satisfactory. There are many extravagant reports about large strikes of oil, but upon examination you will find them to be much exaggerated. You will find no thousand barrel wells as we had last year, and the five and three hundred barrel wells will dwindle down from one hundred to twenty, and perhaps as low as ten and five. A number of parties from the West, particularly from Chicago are around here for the purpose of purchasing, and property, though still comparatively low, is looking up in some quite remote localities.

Land, on and in the vicinity of Burning Spring Run, taking the Cozzens well as the central point, is held and selling at one thousand dollars per acre. A farm of sixty-four acres has just been sold at sixty-four thousand dollars. It is all regarded as oil territory, but a great deal of it is undeveloped.

Oil is sold at the wells at Burning Springs, in ordinary times at $6 50 to $7 per barrel. It is steamed down to Parkersburg, when the water is at a proper stage, at a cost of $1 25 per barrel. It has been taken as low as fifty cents per barrel.

In forming an estimate of the condition of affairs in the oil regions of West Virginia, it should be borne in mind that the business has only been revived for the space of four months, or since the surrender of Lee. During the war nearly the whole country was in the hands of guerrillas or under continual apprehensions of more systematic raids from the regular Confederate troops. But it will not be long before the country is restored to its ordinary repose, and the work of development be continued as heretofore. Indeed the revival has already commenced.

GOT BACK.—Our neighbor and friend of the Pajaro Times, James B. McQuillan, who was rowed up the bitter waters of the Saline River, at the last election, on the Senatorial lay-out, by half the voters of Santa Cruz county and about four hundred others, has, we learn, returned, and is again perched snugly on his tripod. That's what comes of going it on one's own hook. Too much individualism ain't good for the State nor healthy for politicians either. If you'r not satisfied with your own experience, just consult your neighbor Murdoch of the Patriot. Although the election returns came in "too late" for his paper the week after the election, we'll venture to say that he has "smel't a rat" so strong that he will subscribe without hesitation to our philosophy. We told you two years ago that we could'nt tell what would become of you and that we feared the consequences, unless you'd put on the Union harness fairly and go square down to the work, and here it is, you've come to grief in the midst of your days. Hope you won't blame us for it. The fact is, Mc., men must aggregate to accomplish anything of consequence. We rather suspect the trouble at that great old tower was, that every fellow wanted to have his own way, and you remember they did'nt get the job done. There must be parties in this republic, and two is all that is necessary and as many as can live. The Union party has done a glorious work, but it still has noble employment before it; its mission is not yet accomplished, and in our humble opinion it is the duty of every true Union man to sustain the Union party. Don't be afraid of a little radicalism, Mc., and go to kicking against the pricks—radicalism isn't near so bad as individualism. The Union PARTY will reconstruct the rebellious States and President Johnson will be its leader. The signs of life on the carcase of the old Democratic party, is but a galvanic spasm infused into its veins by a few office-seeking Union men. How would the editor of that intensely loyal and ardent Union journal, the Pajaro Times feel in a conservative Construction party alongside the Woods and Seymours, Vallandinghams, Salisburys etc. It won't do, Mc., you are out of your element when you are out of the Union party. Roll up your sleeves, wash your hands and go in.—Alameda Gazette.

MARY HARRIS AGAIN.—This is what a Chicago correspondent says of this young woman, who was so fortunate in escaping justice: "We have discussed the Mary Harris case in all its bearings, for it comes home to us. We all know the good professor of Chicago University, and we sympathized with him in his deep affliction. The murdered man (Burroughs) sleeps in his dishonest grave. Of the wife and child so fearfully bereaved we hear little or nothing, but Mary Harris is petted and caressed; she is handsome and men's hearts melt; sensational reports crowd the papers; "she took the arm of her counsel and retired gracefully to jail;" "she was enthusiastically kissed by her counsel." It is even averred since, that she has called on the wife of the man she murdered. How dared she! What if she, to justify her wrongs, had in a moment of "insane impulse," shot the murderer of her husband? Why she should have been hanged, unless she was young and pretty, in which case she would have been a heroine. And what had Judson Burroughs done? What every man who walks our streets has done—flirted with a too willing girl and entangled her affections. Were every woman in the land who has a similar cause, to rise up with a revolver, what an army there would be! Burroughs left Mary Harris a pure and virtuous girl, from her own account. What is she now? Pure and virtuous she can never be again. Not all the absolutions of all the priests on earth can wipe the stain from her character. For the benefit of the American people, the sooner she and her deeds are consigned to oblivion the better.

TO BE HUNG.—Four men under sentence of death are lying in the San Francisco jail. They are Barney Olwell, who killed Irwin about some hogs: Chang Wang, who murdered a Chinese woman named Sun Choy; Antonio Sassovich, alias Mach, who killed Edward Walter, last May, and Thomas Byrnes, the murderer of Charles T. Hill, whom he killed for the possession of a bogus diamond pin. Attempts to obtain the executive clemency in these cases have, so far, proved unsuccessful.

FRED KRETSCHMAR, formerly a clerk in the banking-house of Lucas, Turner & Co., under Gen; W. T. Sherman, recently committed suicide in St, Louis by taking laudanum. He was 31 years of age, and completely ruined by dissipation.

JAMES WILSON, who had an arm and leg broken by falling into a shaft near Allison Ranch on Wednesday last, was brought to Nevada on Saturday and placed in the County Hospital. His injuries are regarded as of a dangerous character.

THE dwelling-house of Mr. Flemm, situated near Donnallan's Bridge was destroyed by fire on Tuesday morning, 18th instant together with all its contents. One of Mr. Flemm's children had a narrow escape from the flames.

THE Grass Valley National says that a Mr. Holmes, who has an orchard on the Grass Valley road, has gathered this season, from a tree only three years old, five hundred pounds of apples, over twelve bushels.

THOMAS DEPEW, who shot himself on Friday, Sept. 22d, in Marysville, died on Sunday afternoon. At the time of firing the fatal shot he was undoubtedly laboring under a temporary abberation of mind.

THE State Department is in receipt to-day of voluminous dispatches from our consuls at Constantinople, Smyrna, Port Mahon, and Barcelona, giving further information of the ravages of the cholera in the various parts of Europe. Reports from Constantinople are most alarming—the deaths from the disease having reached the number of two thousand per day. At Smyrna the epidemic was checked some time since, but had broken out afresh, and now is spreading to a frightful extent.

The Consul at Smyrna in a letter to the State Department, dated August 29th, says the cholera mortality is steadily on the increase. Its ravages are alarming.

It is stated in another communication, that the cholera has appeared at Majorica. Our Consul says this scourge is still driving eastward. There is no doubt that a number of cases had occurred in Port Mahon.

Our Consul at Barcelona reports to the Department, that from the 24th to the 31st of August, the number of deaths from cholera in that city averaged about 24 per day. On the 1st of September there were 42 deaths from this disease.

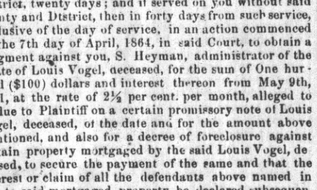
MACHINES SOLD IN TWO YEARS.



Morro.—The Singer M chine is the only Machine that will sew all kinds of cloth with all kinds of thread.

The almost incredible increase in the sale of the Singer Machine during the past two years is owing to the popularity of the LETTER A TRANVERSE SHUTTLE Family Machine, which was introduced in 1860, since which time it has earned and established a reputation for family uses equal to the celebrated manufacturing machines of this firm, which are generally acknowledged even by dealers in other sewing machines, to be unequaled for such purposes.

☞ NO OTHER Family Sewing Machine has such perfect and improved appliances for Ruffling, Hemming, Binding, Felling, Tucking, Gathering, Guaging, Braiding, Cording, Quilting, etc.

☞ All persons requiring information about our Sewing Machines, their sizes, prices, working capacities, and the best method of purchasing, can obtain it by sending for a copy of the CALIFORNIANS should test the merits of R. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Wells it is highly palatable as a beverage, it is unequalled as a tonic and invigorator. In the pursuit of fortune at the mines, many persons are exposed to the attacks of complaints of the digestives organs, and various kinds of fever. It is the very article that has so long been in demand in the mines. Its daily use will restore the tone of a deranged stomach, impart fresh vitality to the digestive functions, and cheer the spirits. Yet the Bitters is the safest of all stimulants. Let the miner who is exposed to hot and dry, wet and cold, be certain to obtain a supply of the genuine Hostetter Bitter, and he will find it a certain safeguard to health.

HOPE FOR THE AFFLICTED.—In another part of this paper will be found the advertisement of the celebrated Institute established by Dr. J. C. YOUNG, in 1836. In this to point out to them where they are sure of obtaining the wished for relief and cure. Under the care of the skillful Doctor the sick and troubled can divest themselves of their burdens of pain; lay aside their cross, and secure health and happiness. If you are sick or in trouble, do not hesitate. Read the advertisement and follow the advice. Do not forget the number nor the manner of directing your letters. Consultation Office, 540, Washington street, San Francisco. my5-3m

Medical Advice.—DR. WM. K. DOHERTY a Medical and Surgical Institute is becoming a sine qua non to the welfare of our State and health of our citizens; and his rapidly spreading reputation, although it may excite surprise, is but the signal of skill, and follows as the natural result of such a cause. We are personally acquainted with gentlemen who had suffered for years under chronic disease, and who had taken advantage of every available means that promised relief, but without success, until they called upon Dr. Doherty, who, in an incredibly short space of time, has given them entire relief. It is gratifying to announce this fact, because the Dr. is a gentleman who seeks, not by defamation of others, to establish his reputation or ruin of another's fame. The Doctor conducts his own Institute in such a manner that must be gratifying to all his patients. He examines, advises, and recommends without charge, and the patient, after hearing his terms for treatment, can accept or reject at pleasure. In no case does the Doctor make a charge, unless he effects a cure. This he is able to do, because he feels the confidence which long experience has given, and no doubt the consolation which appertains to that confidence. Persons afflicted with either acute or chronic disease, would do well to consult the Doctor; at all events, it can do no harm, as for consultation he asks no fee; nor does he insist on obedience to his advice unless the patient places himself under his care. His offices are on Sacramento street, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship office.—S. F. News.

RELEASE OF CONSTITUTIONAL DEMOCRATS.—The accomplices of Poole and others of the stage robbery, have been brought before Judge M'Kee at San Jose, and discharged. The point is that these men were arrested for treason (as Poole et al. claimed to have been acting in the interest of the rebel States) and their counsel pleaded that State Courts could not take cognizance of an offense against the National Government. The Court held that the point was a good one. So ends the case, except as to Poole. That muggins, Gen. Mason, had testimony enough to have sent fifty of that gang to Alcatraz for life, but it is supposed Drum prevailed upon him not to use it. This latter chap is "conservative," and calls Bull's Run a "political difference.

ROMANTIC ELOPEMENT.—The Petaluma Argus relates the marriage of Alma Phelps and Mary Welling of that county. They were married on board a schooner 22 miles out from Timber Cove. The parties are respectably connected and in every way worthy of each other, save that "they are o'er young to marry yet." The parents were opposed—the young folks determined—eloped—chartered a schooner—invited a number of young friends—found a plucky parson—stocked their vessel with good things of the market—went out of the jurisdiction of California and their parents—were tied up in legal form—had a good time—returned wiser and older—all hands as happy as clams at high tide.

The copper interest is advancing in importance. The metal seems to be plentifully distributed throughout the State, there being scarcely a county but has it in greater or less quantity. Some of the best defined veins exist in Calaveras county, but the grade of ore is but about twenty per cent., the rock, however, is very easily worked. In Amador county there are two very fine mines, the Newton and Cosumnes, which ship, on an average, two hundred and fifty tuns per month to San Francisco. From Calaveras is shipped nearly that amount in a day, the Union being the largest producer. Nearly all the ores quarried are shipped to England or Boston for reduction. It is packed in sacks containing about one hundred pounds each. None but the inferior grades are reduced in this State, though some of the works are meeting with great success.

The new appraisal made upon the improvements of Hoopa Valley Indian Reservation, shows a remarkable falling off somewhere. The first valuation was $116,000, the second $59,959 55, difference nearly one-half. There's a nice little speculation spoiled for somebody.

We learn from the Humboldt Times that the steamer Del Norte on her last trip took down as a part of her freight, fifteen packages of oil, consisting of three barrels and twelve half-barrels, containing in the aggregate about two hundred and seventy-five gallons, from the Union Petroleum Company's well in Mattole.

THE Stockton grain export is just now very large. The Independent says: Howard Brown yesterday shipped sixty tons of wheat, on the sloop Cynthia and an equal amount on the schooner Maid of the Mill. Peters & Jackson shipped fifty tons on the schooner Jane, and 24½ tons on the steamer Julia, all for San Francisco.

ANTIQUITIES OF NYE'S RANCH.—The old adobe building at the foot of D. street, the building first put up on Nye's ranch, and the pioneer among Marysville abodes, is fast crumbling down, and passing back to mother earth. Why should it not, like the Charter Oak at Hartford, be preserved, by enclosing it and caring for it in its old age?—Marysville Appeal.

GRASS VALLEY AND COLFAX.—The National says: "Business is now very brisk between this place and Colfax. An enormous quantity of freight is daily passing over the road, and the stages thence are loaded with passengers. Capitalists from various sections are largely investing in property at Colfax, being satisfied that it is destined to be one of the most permanent of the interior and mountain towns.

HOMICIDE AT GILROY.—The San José Mercury says: "Pedro Gilroy, a Spaniard, was killed at Gilroy, in this county, on the night of the 12th inst., by Mr. E. T. Fitts. Gilroy was intoxicated, and attempted to ride over Mr. Fitts, who was on foot, and endeavored to turn the horse aside. The Spaniard then leaped from his horse, threatening then and there to kill Fitts. As he approached, the latter caught up a picket and stove in his head.

DEATH AMONG THE SHEEP.—Some sort of mysterious sort of disease is killing off the sheep in Calaveras county. What is very singular is the fact that the older and least valuable sheep of the flock prosper finely, while all at once, without showing any premonitory symptons of disease whatever, those young and in excellent condition suddenly drop down and die.

FOUND DEAD.—A man whose name is supposed to be John Fitzgerald, aged 48 years, of sandy complexion, a native of Ireland, was found dead in the road near Tomales, on the 11th instant. The Coroner's Jury found that deceased came to his death in consequence of a fall, which broke his neck, while in a state of intoxication.

REMARKABLE IMMIGRATION.—The Marysville Appeal says: "A party of emigrants, consisting of eight persons, are encamped just above the Pacific House in this city. Every member of the party is deaf and dumb. They crossed the plains this season."

IMPORTANT CIPHER MISSING.—The San José Mercury says: "An item is going the rounds of the press that Santa Clara county produces this year 185,000 bushels of wheat. A mistake of a naught (0)—the amount produced is estimated at 1,350,000.

ALMADEN.—The amount of quicksilver retorted at the furnaces of the New Almaden mine, in this county, for the month of August, was 4,500 flasks, or 344,250 pounds, valued at about $140,000. This mine can supply the world with quicksilver, and defy all competition.

HUMOROUS SINNERS.—When the minister went round with the contribution-box at a camp-meeting in Tulare, a couple of fellows excused their inability to contribute on the grounds that one had had a "full" beaten and the other "three aces," the night before!

SMALL POTATOES.—The San Leandro Gazette says that five or six of the heaviest property-holders in that district were sued lately for school-taxes and escaped judgment because the assessor had failed to put the dollar-mark before the valuation.

MURDER TRIAL IN ALPINE.—The trial of W. Harris, indicted for the murder of S. Williams, at Fredericksburg, in this county last Fall, has been set for October 2d, before Judge Cavis, in the District Court for Alpine county.

FIRE AT BOLINAS.—The store of E. Levy, at Bolinas, Marin county, was destroyed by fire on Saturday night last, the clerk barely escaping with his life. Loss about $10,000.

BIG INCOMES.—The largest income tax-payer in Santa Clara county is James Lick, whose income is $81,877—tax, $4,197 70. Peter Sather of Alameda reports an income of $44,450—tax, $4,225 00.

BIG MINES.—The Grass Valley National says it is rumored that the Eureka mine, in that vicinity, is about to be sold to capitalists from below for $300,000.

SANTA CLARA WEALTH.—The property valuation of Santa Clara county is $6,765,870.

VOTE OF MARIN.—The total vote of Marin county at the recent election, was 1,052.

So help me God."

UNION PLATFORM.

Resolved, That representing the loyal Union men, and the Union party of California, we acknowledge our inestimable debt of gratitude to the brave men who on land and sea have fought the battles of the republic through the varying fortunes of a desperate civil war; to the statesmen who have exercised the civil authority of the Government and conducted its diplomacy; and above all to Almighty God, whose gracious Providence in the affairs of men was never more signally manifest than in bringing our country—the hope and beacon light of humanity—triumphantly through so terrible a struggle.

Resolved, That while we have reason to rejoice in the success which has attended Union arms, and Union principles, we recognize the facts that our work is not yet done; that great questions yet remain to be settled and great difficulties to be overcome by Congress and the Administration in bringing order, peace and submission to law, out of the confusion and disorder in which the war has left the late rebel States; that there are still elements of disaffection to be restrained in the section lately in rebellion and to be combatted at the polls in California; and that consequently there is no less necessity than heretofore for maintaining the organization of the party in its full vigor and integrity, to the end that California may at all times be in condition to render the most effective and loyal support to every measure of polidy which may be found necessary by Congress or the Administration in order to maintain the authority of the Union and to secure and perpetuate the just fruits of victory.

Resolved, That in the life of Abraham Lincoln we recognise not only the eminent and lasting services which he rendered to our country as a patriot and a statesman, but also the brilliant and unstained example which he has left to his countrymen and mankind. Hitherto our history has been wanting in our illustration of the stimulating energy and of the field of action bestowed by our republican institutions. But in the history of his life we have an actual instance of one born in the humblest condition of society, who surmounted the obstacles infused by poverty and want of education, rising successfully from the lowest to the highest station in country, equal to every position and superior to every trial, and everywhere and at all times, and for all time presenting to the world the ideal type of the representative republican man, citizen and patriot. On his tomb we lay the offering of gratitude and love.

Resolved, That in Andrew Johnson we recognise the worthy successor of Abraham Lincoln; like him the representative of the benefits of our free and beneficent republican institutions, and that to him we transfer, with undoubting faith, the allegiance of hope and love which we bear to the beloved institutions of our county. That we approve the spirit of combined firmness and clemency which has thus far characterized his administration. We indorse his declaration, "That the restoration of peace and order cannot be entrusted to rebels and traitors who destroyed the peace and trampled down the order that had existed more than half a century," and believe it to be the duty of all Union men to oppose the restoration of civil power in the rebellious States until the President and Congress shall be satisfied that it will be wielded by truly loyal majorities therein. We have the fullest confidence in the Administration of President Johnson, and in his patriotism, wisdom and judgment, and pledge him our earnest support.

Resolved That it is the duty and policy of the State of California to adopt the amendment of the Constitution of the United States prohibiting involuntry servitude except on conviction for crime throughout the United States.

Resolved, That the Monroe doctrine is the traditional and well established policy of the United States, and we cannot see with indifference the subversion of the liberties of a friendly republic by European arms, and the establishment of imperialism by the same means, on our immediate borders.

PLACER COUNTY UNION PLATFORM.

WHEREAS, the Union party of Placer county have assembled in Convention on this 27th day of June, 1865, for the purpose of choosing appropriate men to serve the people of said county as public officers; therefore

Resolved, That the Union men of this county rejoice over the success of the Federal Government in crushing beneath its iron heel the Slaveholders rebellion, and in restoring law and order in the rebellious States

Resolved, That we are in favor of a pacific national policy toward foreign nations in the settlement of demands and difficulties which have arisen during the rebellion, but are unanimously opposed to a compromise of any principal of right or National honor, for the sake of peace.

Resolved, That we reiterate our policy of retrenchment in an economical administration of our County, State and National affairs, and that in this connection, we declare our unqualified approval of the course of our late lamented Chief Magistrate, for the past four years, as deserving our lasting gratitude of a free and Chrirtian people: for his sound statemanship evinced by him, and the noble patriots whom he had called around him.

Resolved, That we earnestly desire the adoption, by the California Legislature, of the Constitutional Amendment passed by Congress at its last session, forever prohibiting slavery in the United States.

Resolved, That the loyal citizens of this county look forward with the greatest anxiety to the adoption of the National Currency Notes as a circulating medium.

Resolved, That henceforth the watchword of American patriots shall be, America for Americans, and by Americans, which includes all men born on native or foreign soil, who accept in their hearts our Declaration of Independence, our Constitution and our laws, and who are inspired by the spirit of American liberty, while it rigidly excludes all, both native and foreign, in whose hearts there is avowed sympathy with domestic traitors or foreign foes.

MISCELLANEOUS ADVERTISEMENTS.

QUICK CURES, SMALL CHARGES.

ELECTROPATHIC INSTITUTE,
645 Washington Street, San Francisco,
ESTABLISHED FEBRUARY, 1860, BY AN ASSOCIATION OF SCIENTIFIC GENTLEMEN FOR THE CURE OF DISEASES, AND THE SUPPRESSION OF QUACKERY.

Truths for the Afflicted.

This splendid establishment was inaugurated in February, 1860, by an association of Scientific gentlemen, that there might be a Medical Establishment in San Francisco, where the afflicted could find scientific and honorable, as well as humane treatment. Outrageous Quackery had so long run rampant over afflicted humanity that all confidence was being lost in the Medical Profession, and it was time that there should be an Institute where the afflicted could apply with the certainty of honorable and Scientific treatment. And the result has thus far exceeded the most sanguine expectations of its founders.

Thousands have been made to rejoice in returned health who had been trifled with by the numerous vampires that abound upon this coast, the chief of whom has been obliged to close out and leave the country; but still there are some left of whom the afflicted should beware.

The basis of the treatment at the Institute is the Electropathic System. The Physician and Surgeon who has been a Professor in one of the best Medical Colleges in America, and who has made a special study of Chronic Diseases for the last fifteen years, is thoroughly qualified to treat by medicine, and will warrant a perfect and permanent cure in the shortest possible time. All long-standing cases of disease no matter what may be their nature, give way under the course of treatment pursued at the Institute, and the result is perfect health and a strengthened constitution where it has been injured.

It would be useless to enumerate the diseases as it would be occupying space to no purpose. Every nameable complaint to which humanity is liable can be cured by the faculty at the Institute.

No mercury is used upon any consideration. All medicines prescribed are vegetable, and in cases where the patient can remain in the city, and wishes to be treated by Electricity, no medicines will be used. All medicines are electrized, which makes them much more active, and destroys all nauseous taste, making them as palatable as wine.

The Directors wish to speak of specialities more extensively than of other complaints, because empirics have used more deception about them than they have about the regular troubles of the human family. And first on the list is that dreadful malady denominated Seminal Weakness, or Spermatorrhœa, a complaint which not only affects the body with pain and lassitude, making life a burden, but affects the brain, creating Insanity. It drives more men to the mad house than all other diseases added together. By the Electropathic System this terrible trouble give away, and the hitherto emaciated victim is made to rejoice in perfect health.

Next upon the list is Venereal, in all of its terrible forms and phases.

It is impossible to paint this disease in colors sufficiently terrible to do it justice. It is the most awful disease to which the human family is liable, and if not arrested when active, making him a loathsome mass of living corruption. It is also one of the most insidious diseases in the world. While the exterior shows no symptom, the orribl he disease is sapping the foundations of life, preparing to attack its vital parts, as soon as the patient shall by some indiscretion weaken the system. Reader, if you have ever had this awful disease in any form whatever, call at once at the Institute, and the physician there will examine you and tell you if you have any of the virus in your blood. In such cases consultations are always gratis, and should you have any of the dreadful complaint about you, a cure will be warranted in a short time, or no charges will be ade for servicems.

Strictures.

This terrible affection, which badly affects the nervous system as to prevent sound and health giving sleep, should be attended to in its early stages, or an operation both painful and dangerous will have to be resorted to. It is usually first indicated by darting pains in the parts, but very light and hardly noticeable at first, increasing gradually, until they become troublesome, sometimes accompanied by slight irritations in the passage of urine—A quick cure is easily performed at the Institute if early application is made.

To Females.

Your delicate organizations should be treated with great scientific care. At the Institute you will find a kind physician, who can at once discover your disease or trouble, and sympatize with you in your affliction. Should you be irregular you can get relief, no matter what may be the cause. You need not fear to call on account of the delicacy of consultation for the utmost secrecy will be insured at all times, and the resident physician will treat you in the most honorable manner, giving you all the assistance and advice, both medical and surgical, that you may require. Private apartments, especially for Ladies.

Preventive.

Dr. J. H. Josselyn's celebrated Preventive for married ladies can be obtained only at the Institute. Price, Ten Dollars.

Warranted to prevent pregnancy. Can be used without any inconvenience, and is good for one year if directions are followed.

This Magnetic Preventive is not injurious, but is conducive to health, and can be used without the know ledge of any one but the party using it.

To sum up, there is no place where the medical profession is practiced in the State of California, wherein the same amount of scientific attainments are employed, and, consequently, where the afflicted can be so well treated, and be as sure of a cure, as at the Electropathic Institute, 645 Washington street, (south side,) a few doors below Kearny.

Reader, if you are sick and need medical assistance call therebefore employing any one else, and judge for yourself. You will there find the best consulting, as well as the best operating talent in the State, together with the only Electropathic Instrument that can be depended upon in the curative process.

Medicine sent to all parts of the State, Oregon and Nevada, upon the receipt of a letter describing the case.

All letters must be directed to J. H. JOSSELYN, M. D., Resident Physician, Electropathic Institute.

Dr. H. JOSSLYN has no connection with any other establishment or Institute in this city.

All letters answered with promptness and pleasure, and the utmost secrecy observed. Address

PRIVATE MEDICAL AID.
Quick Cures and Moderate Charges.
DR. W. K. DOHERTY'S
Private Medical and Surgical Institute,
Sacramento Street, below Montgomery, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Office.
Private entrance on Leidesdorff st., San Francisco.
Established expressly to afford the afflicted sound and Scientific Medical Aid, in the treatment and cure of all Private and Chronic Diseases, cases of secrecy and all Sexual Diseases.

To the Afflicted.

DR. W. K. DOHERTY returns his sincere thanks to his numerous patients for their patronage, and would take this opportunity to remind them that he continues to consult at his Institute for the cure of chronic diseases of the Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive and Genito-Urinary Organs, and all private diseases, viz: Syphilis in all its form and stages, Seminal Weakness, and all the horrid consequences of self-abuse, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Nocturnal and Diurnal Emissions, Sexual Debility, Diseases of the Back and Loins, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, etc., etc., and he hopes that his long experience and successful practice will continue to ensure him a share of public patronage. By the practice of many years in Europe and the United States, he is enabled to apply the most efficient and successful remedies against diseases of all kinds. He uses no mercury, charges moderate, treats his patients in a correct and honorable way, and has references from men of known respectability and high standing in society. All parties consulting him, by letter or otherwise, will receive the best and gentlest treatment and implicit secrecy.

DR. DOHERTY would call attention to the following certificates from two of his patients, who having fully recovered their health, desire to make known their remedial agent. It will be seen their statements are fully authenticated by a Notary Public.

The welfare of society imperiously demand their publicity, and they are given more to warn the unwary than to sound the praises of a Physician, of whom hundreds of like cases can be cited, during a practice of more than fifteen years.

Dr. Doherty—Dear Sir: I feel my health so fully restored, that in common gratitude, I believe I should make you some written acknowledgment for your valuable services—particularly so as your fee was small for the work performed.

I arrived in this city from the East about one year ago, and was then suffering from an old case of Gleet, complicated with Stricture. Being a stranger in this city, and believing those Doctors who gave such positive assurances of success were necessarily the best (some of whom have a large number of titles), I placed myself in their charge and continued under their treatment until I had lost nearly all hope and a considerable sum of money.

I wish to say now that you are the sixth Doctor I have employed, and the only one that has ever done me any service. My Gleet is wholly cured, the Stricture is all removed, and my general health is better than it has been for years.

In conclusion I would say to the many unfortunates who require medical advice, if you have any doubt as to whom you may employ, ask Dr. Doherty for my address and call and see me. (I keep store in this city.) My experience may save you many dollars.

I would also add that in the early stage of my disease, I used a large amount of the preparations advertised as an infallible cure for Gonorrhœa, Gleet, etc., but never derived any benefit from them.

I am, Dr. tor, very truly yours, L—— H——.
San Francisco, June 16, 1864.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS—A SWORN-TO CERTIFICATE OF MOST REMARKABLE CURE OF SPERMATORRHŒA.

A desire to benefit humanity, and a feeling of gratitude to Dr. W. K. Doherty, alone induces me to make this statement. For many years I have been afflicted with that fearful disease known as "Spermatorrhœa," or Seminal Weakness, the result of selfabuse, but till 1855 experienced but little trouble or inconvenience. In that year however, I had Seminal weakness to an alarming extent, which was soon followed by the most alarming symptoms as weakness of the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of vision, nervousness and general debility. My mind, too, was afflicted to such an extent as to seriously impair my memory; my ideas were confused and spirits depressed. I was averse to society, had evil forebodings and self-distrust, and was entirely unfitted for any of the duties of life. From 1855 to the summer of 1863, I employed the very best medical talent I could find, and spent several hundred dollars, but in no instance obtained more than temporary relief. I had about concluded there was no relief for me in this world, but seeing Dr. Doherty's advertisement, I thought I would call and see him, as he charged nothing for consultation. I had an interview with Dr. Doherty at his office, in Sacramento street, and his fee for treatment was so reasonable, I determined to try him, though I did not expect much benefit from his treatment. On the 5th of December last I placed myself under his care; in one week I found myself very much improved, and now, after five weeks' treatment, I feel myself thoroughly cured of all my troubles and in the enjoyment of the best health. Hoping that my experience may be of benefit to others similarly afflicted, I subscribe myself JAMES JOHNSTON.
Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 15th day of January, A. D. 1864.
[L. S.] A. G. RANDALL, Notary Public.

To Females.

When a female is in trouble, or afflicted with disease, as weakness of the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of sight, loss of muscular power, palpitation of the heart, irritability, nervousness, extreme urinary difficulties, derangement of digestive functions, general debility, vaginitis, all diseases of the womb, hysteria, sterility, and all other diseases peculiar to females, they should go or write at once to the celebrated female doctor, W. K. Doherty, at his Medical Institute, and consult him about their troubles and disease. The Doctor is effecting more cures than any other Physician in the State of California. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immediately and save yourself from painful sufferings and premature death. All Married Ladies, whose delicate health or other circumstances prevent an increase in their families should write or call at Dr. W. K. Doherty's Medical Institute, and they will receive every possible relief and help. The Doctor's offices are so arraged that he can be consulted without fear of observation.

To correspondents.

Patients residing in any part of the State, however distant, who may desire the opinion and advice of Dr. Doherty on their respective cases, and who think proper to submit a written statement of such, in preference to holding a personal interview, are respectfully assured that their communications will be held most sacred. Dr. Doherty takes this opportunity of observing, that all letters are only opened and replied to by himself, and the latter as promptly as possible.

If the case be fully and candidly described, and the usual fee of ten dollars enclosed, (by express or in a registered letter) personal communication will be superseded, as instructions for diet, regimen, and the general treatment the case itself (including the remedies), will be forwarded without delay, and in such a manner as to convey no purport of the letter or parcel so transmitted.

AND HAPPINESS

NOT A FEW

Of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the Blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none can equal in effect HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA. It cleanses and renovates the Blood, instills the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the Blood. Such a remedy, that could be relied on, has long been sought for, and now, for the first time, the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit of certificates to show its effects, but the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has virtues surpassing anything that have ever taken.

Two tablespoonsful of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water, is equal to the Liquid Diet Drink, and one bottle is equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoction as usually made.

The above Extracts are prepared in purely scientific principles—in Vacuo—and embody the full strength of the ingredients entering into their composition. A ready and conclusive test will be a comparison of their properties with those set forth in the U. S. Dispensatory.

The California Fly Killing Liquid.

FLY PAPER KILLS ITS THOUSANDS. THE LIQUID Fly Killer its tens of thousands. This preparation for killing flies gives the greatest satisfaction of anything ever yet used. It is now improved to the highest killing point. It is of such a nature and so speedy of effects, that the flies will not spot the walls and windows, which makes the use of other preparations so objectionable.
